“Good wine affords many benefits: it comforts the brain, delights the stomach, removes harmful vapours from the body, relaxes the belly when full, sharpens the wit, develops vision, clarifies hearing, reinforces the body and brings strength to your limbs.”

The medieval School of Medicine of Salerno

It is with the same enthusiasm that I present this wine list, which originated in July 2001 in the Osteria di Costanza e Roberto di Scanno in Abruzzo, and was developed with the opening of the Taverna in Montisi in July 2005.

I hope that the labels offer a stimulating choice of wines to accompany the dishes produced by the kitchen.

From time to time I shall add others, with a strong preference for the wines of producers who, in their vineyards and in their cellars, work enthusiastically and with commitment to improve and exploit local grape varieties and make wine in traditional manner.

Some of these wines are available by the glass or carafe (25 or 50 cl). These are shown in the list under “Vini della Casa”.

In the light of these remarks and out of respect for my guests, I have chosen not to offer vino sfuso (unbottled wine bought from the barrel).

If you wish to take a bottle home with you, I can offer a discount of 10%; for certain labels only one bottle can be purchased in this way.

All suggestions will be gratefully received and considered carefully.
